Now, Trump offers to mediate between India and China

Beijing says situation is 'stable' and both sides will resolve the standoff bilaterally

SUHASINI HAIDAR
SHIRAM LAKSHMAN
NEW DELHI

U.S. President Donald Trump said on Wednesday that he had offered to help New Delhi and Beijing resolve their tensions at the Line of Actual Control (LAC). The offer came as a surprise on a day the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs appeared to soften its line on the standoff, suggesting the situation was "stable and controllable" now.

"We have informed both India and China that the United States is ready, willing and able to mediate or arbitrate their now raging border dispute. Thank you!" Mr. Trump tweeted.

Indian and Chinese troops have faced off at at least four points along the LAC, including Pangong Tso (lake), Demchok and Galwan Valley in Ladakh and Naku La in Sikkim, where PLA soldiers are reported to have occupied tracts patrolled by Indian troops, pitching tents and third party between India and China publicly.

China is a threat: Wells

His comments also appear to be at variance with the stand taken by senior U.S. State Department official Alice Wells, who squarely blamed China for the border tensions and called it a "threat" to all its neighbours.

Moreover, Mr. Trump's offer comes at a time when the U.S. and China them-said the U.S. could impose sanctions on both Beijing and Hong Kong, if China were to go ahead and impose a national security law on Hong Kong.

Neither the Ministry of External Affairs nor China's Ministry of Foreign Affairs responded to Mr. Trump's statement. India has, in the past, rejected all offers of third party mediation.

The continuing tensions along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) are likely to top the agenda as the biannual Army Commanders Conference (ACC) began on Wednesday, with discussions led by the Army chief and the seven commanders, with a specific session devoted to each command over three days.

The sessions by the Northern and Eastern Commands would be of particular interest as they cover the border with China. The ACC was originally scheduled for April, but was postponed owing to the COVID-19 pandemic, and is now scheduled to be held in two phases.

'Differences mustn't shade ties'

India and China have kept in close touch since COVID-19 outbreak, says envoy

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

India and China have kept up "close communication and cooperation" since the COVID-19 outbreak, said China's Ambassador to India Sun Weidong, adding that he was "impressed" by India's handling of the pandemic thus far.

While he made no direct reference to the ongoing stand-off between the two Armies at the Line of Actual Control in Ladakh and Sikkim, Mr. Sun said that India and China should "never let the differences shadow the overall situation of bilateral cooperation", referring to the two countries as the "Dragon and Elephant dancing together".

"Our two leaders President Xi Jinping and Prime Minister Narendra Modi have exchanged letters, and our foreign ministers made cooperation," said Mr. Sun, speaking at an Internet seminar or webinar for "Indian Youth" on Wednesday.

He added that Indian companies had helped with supplies on 45 Indian cargo flights to China, while Chinese companies like Alibaba, Fosun, SANY Group had assisted India with masks, protective suits, medical gloves and ventilators.

'Swift action'

When asked what he thought of India's response to the pandemic, Mr. Sun ing what he called "swift action" in placing a lockdown across the country on March 25, when confirmed cases of the infection were not very high.

Praising the "solidarity" and "cooperation" with which Indians had responded to lockdown restrictions, the Ambassador remarked that a "majority of the Indian people follow government instructions and advice to stay at home, and the overall social order has been stable since the lockdown".

Referring to the resolu-

sion this month that called for a full enquiry into the origins of the novel coronavirus, Mr. Sun said all countries should be "vigilant" about what he called "conspiracy theories" that China had concealed the pandemic or that the virus had originated from the Wuhan Institute of Virology.

India, which had backed the resolution at the World Health Assembly, has refused any public comment on the issue of the origin of the virus, stating that these issues must be dealt with only after the threat from the disease recedes.

"We did not cover up anything, and did not delay any efforts. Identifying the source of the virus is a serious and complex issue of science, which should be studied and explored by scientists and medical experts," Mr. Sun asserted.

Video of baby with dead mother goes viral

In another incident, the body of a woman was deboarded at Mansi station

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT
PATNA

Amid several videos showing the woes of migrant workers returning to Bihar these days, a chilling video went viral on social media on Wednesday. A baby is seen playfully tugging at a sheet partially covering his dead mother at the Muzaffarpur railway station in Bihar. The woman, said to be Arvina Khatun, 35, is seen lying dead on the platform, with two bags stuffed with her belongings kept away from her.

An older child, with a water bottle in hand, too, appears for a moment in the video. "The woman had reached the Muzaffarpur railway station on May 25 along with her two children, sister and brother-in-law. She was from Katihar district. Only the doctor can say how she died," Government Railway Police official Ramakant Upadhyay told presspersons.

A local journalist in Muzaffarpur told The Hindu that the woman and her two small children had arrived by a Shramik Special train on May 25 from Ahmedabad. She collapsed immediately upon reaching the station, possibly due to extreme heat, hunger and dehydration. The woman is said to have boarded the train on May 23.

Sharing the video on his Twitter handle, Sanjay Yadav, political adviser to Bihar's Leader of Opposition in the Assembly Tejashwi Yadav, said, "The little child does not know that the cloth he is playing with is the shroud of his dead mother. She died because she did not have food and water for four days. Who is responsible for such deaths in trains? The Opposition should ask the hard questions or not?"

In another incident, a the body of a woman was deboarded at the Mansi railway station in the State on Wednesday.

"Some people took out the dead body of a woman on platform number 3 of Mansi railway station from a train coming from Surat in Gujarat to Purnia in Bihar. Her name is Uresh Khatun and she was from Katihar district. The relatives of the dead woman said the woman was suffering from a heart ailment and had surgery on March 22, 2020," the Sonepur division of East Central Railway said in a statement.
